

Clark's Grebe

Aechmophorus clarkii

A white-faced version of the Western Grebe, the Clark's Grebe formerly was thought to be the same species. Differences in face and bill color keep the two grebes from interbreeding.

Keys to Identification

Adult Description

- Medium-sized waterbird.
- Black back and cap.
- White face.
- White neck and underside.
- Long neck.
- Long, thin bill.

Immature Description

Similar to adult.

Measurements

Both Sexes

- Length - 21.7 - 29.5 inches
- Wingspan - 31.9 - 32.3 inches
- Weight - 25.3 - 59.4 ounces